THE BLESSING OF CANDLES,
PROCESSION & SOLEMN MASS

The Church of Saint Mary the Virgin in the City of New York

A Vision for Saint Mary's

Saint Mary's is a vibrant Anglo-Catholic witness in the heart of New York City. With our identity in Christ and a preference for the poor, we are an inclusive, diverse community called to love God and each other for the life of the world.

About the Feast of the Presentation

We gather to celebrate the Presentation of Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Temple, also known as Candlemas. Like much of our liturgical heritage, the liturgy for the Presentation has a rich and complicated history. Part of the history lies in the Christian East, where celebrations of events in Jesus' life begin to take place on fixed days in fourth-century Jerusalem. In the sixth century, if not before, the Presentation was being celebrated in Rome. In addition, Pope Sergius I (687–701) instituted public processions on three feasts—Presentation, Annunciation and Assumption—during his episcopate. These started from a parish in the Forum and went to the Basilica of Saint Mary Major.

The blessing of candles can be dated to the eleventh century. Liturgical processions and ceremonies like the blessing of candles were reintroduced to Anglican worship in the nineteenth century and have found a place in The Book of Occasional Services of the Episcopal Church.

About the Music at the Mass

The setting of the Song of Simeon (Luke 2:29-32) sung as the tapers are lighted this evening is from the Great Service by William Byrd (c.1540–1623). Byrd's Great Service for the English liturgy includes settings of canticles for Morning and Evening Prayer as well as responses to the Ten Commandments and the Creed for Eucharist. Though presumably composed before 1606, the components of Byrd's Great Service were not published during his lifetime but were compiled by scholars who assembled and collated several manuscripts. The settings are intended for five-voices and various configurations and with instrumental doubling. The Great Service was intended for the Chapel Royal Choir which mainly sang in the old Palace of Whitehall and, on many occasions, at Westminster

The setting of the Mass this evening is the Mass for Five Voices, also by William Byrd. Byrd composed settings of the Latin Mass for three, four and five voices. The Mass for Five Voices probably dates from about 1594 and was the last of the three to be composed. Its voicing is the most expansive, having two tenor parts, but its movements are the most concise of the three Byrd Masses. The whole business of Latin Masses in post-Reformation England needed to be a somewhat clandestine matter to protect those involved from the possibility of arrest. This being the case, Byrd's part books were undated and without title page or preface, nor was the printer (Thomas East) identified. Fortunately, Byrd's settings survived the period in which their performance—if not their very existence—was illegal, and now they rightly are regarded as great treasures of Western music. Composed with the Continental Tridentine liturgy in mind, Byrd's Masses were also influenced by pre-Reformation works of English masters John Taverner (c. 1490–1545), Christopher Tye (c. 1505–c. 1573), John Sheppard (c. 1515–1558) and Thomas Tallis (c. 1505–1585). The several movements of Byrd's Mass for five voices are linked by recurring freely composed themes.

The Communion motet this evening is William Byrd's setting of Ave Regina Caelorum, a Marian antiphon traditionally associated with Compline from the Feast of the Presentation (2 February) until Wednesday of Holy Week. Byrd's setting of this antiphon is scored for four voices and was first published as number 46 in his Gradualia I of 1605.

The Entrance Rite

The Entrance Song

All remain standing. Bells are rung. Then the appointed antiphon is sung as the ministers of the assembly enter.

Suscipimus, Deus,
misericordiam tuam
in medio templi tui:
secundum nomen tuum Deus,
ita et laus tua in fines terrae:
iustitia plena est dextera tua.
Magnus Dominus et laudabilis nimis:
in civitate Dei nostri,
in monte sancto eius.

your loving-kindness, O God,
in the midst of your temple;

reaches to the world's end;
your right hand is full of justice.
Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised,
in the city of our God,
on his holy mountain.
Glory to the Father,
and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit:
as it was in the beginning, is now,
and will be for ever.
Amen.*

The Greeting

The Celebrant introduces the liturgy, saying

Dear People of God:

Forty days ago we celebrated the joyful feast of the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ. Today we recall the holy day on which he was presented in the temple, fulfilling the law of Moses and at the same time going to meet his faithful people. Led by the Spirit, Simeon and Anna came to the temple, recognized Christ as their Lord, and proclaimed him with joy. United by the Spirit, may we recognize the Lord in our presence now and when he comes again in glory.

The Lighting of Candles

As the candles are lighted, the Choir sings Nunc dimittis (“The Song of Simeon”). The setting is from The Great Service by William Byrd (c. 1540–1623).

Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, *
according to thy word;
For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, *
which thou hast prepared before the face of all people,
To be a light to lighten the Gentiles, *
and to be the glory of thy people Israel.

Bow | Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, *
and to the Holy Ghost:
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, *
world without end. Amen.

The Blessing over the Candles

The Celebrant offers the following prayer.

Let us pray.

God our Father, today you revealed to Simeon your Light of revelation to the nations. Bless and sanctify these candles; and grant that we who bear them may walk always as children of that light; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

The Word of God

The Lessons

The Congregation is seated. The first Lesson, Malachi 3:1–4, is now read.

Thus says the LORD, "Behold, I send my messenger to prepare the way before me, and the Lord whom you seek will suddenly come to his temple; the messenger of the covenant in whom you delight, behold, he is coming, says the LORD of hosts. But who can endure the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appears? "For he is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap; he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, till they present right offerings to the LORD. Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasing to the LORD as in the days of old and as in former years."

After the Lesson, the Reader says

People The Word of the Lord.
 Thanks be to God.

Psalm 84:1–6

The Congregation remains seated. The Cantor sings the Refrain, and the Congregation repeats it. Then the Choir sings the psalm verses to an Anglican chant by Gregory Eaton (b. 1959) and the Congregation sings the Refrain.

7

How dear to me is your dwell-ing, O Lord of hosts!

1b My soul has a desire and longing for the courts of the LORD;
my heart and my flesh rejoice in the living God.

2 The sparrow has found her a house and the swallow a nest where she may lay her young; *
by the side of your altars, O LORD of hosts,
my King and my God. Refrain

3 Happy are they who dwell in your house! *
they will always be praising you.

4 Happy are the people whose strength is in you! *
whose hearts are set on the pilgrims' way. Refrain

5 Those who go through the desolate valley will find it a place of springs, * for the early rains have covered it with pools of water.

6 They will climb from height to height, *
and the God of gods will reveal himself in Zion. Refrain

The second Lesson, Hebrews 2:14–18, is now sung.

Since therefore the children share in flesh and blood, he himself likewise partook of the same nature, that through death he might destroy him who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and deliver all those who through fear of death were subject to lifelong bondage. For surely it is not with angels that he is concerned but with the descendants of Abraham. Therefore, he had to be made like his brethren in every respect, so that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make expiation for the sins of the people. For because he himself has suffered and been tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted.

After the Lesson, the Reader sings

The Word of the Lord.

People

Thanks be to God.

The Gospel Acclamation

All stand. The ministers of the assembly prepare for the Gospel while the appointed antiphon is sung.

Alleluia, alleluia.

Senex puerum portabat:

but it was the child who was guiding the man.

Alleluia.

The Holy Gospel

A Minister proclaims the Gospel, first singing

People The Lord be with you.
 And also with you.

Minister ✠ The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Luke.

People Glo-ry to you, Lord Christ.

The appointed Gospel, Luke 2:22–40, is now proclaimed.

And when the time came for their purification according to the law of Moses, the parents of Jesus brought him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord, “Every male that opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord”) and to offer a sacrifice according to what is said in the law of the Lord, “a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.” Now there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon, and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him. And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord’s Christ. And inspired by the Spirit he came into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him according to the custom of the law, he took him up in his arms and blessed God and said, “Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word; for mine eyes have seen thy salvation which thou hast prepared in the presence of all peoples, a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and for glory to thy people Israel.” And his father and his mother marveled at what was said about him; and Simeon blessed them and said to Mary his mother, “Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising of many in Israel, and for a sign that is spoken against (and a sword will pierce through your own soul also), that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed.” And there was a prophetess, Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher; she was of a great age, having lived with her husband seven years from her virginity, and as a widow till she was eighty-four. She did not depart from the temple, worshiping with fasting and prayer night and day. And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks to God and spoke of him to all who were looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. And when they had performed everything according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city, Nazareth.

And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom; and the favor of God was upon him.

After the Gospel, the Minister sings

The Gospel of the Lord.

People Praise to you, Lord Christ.

The People stand or kneel. Then the Celebrant continues

We give thanks to you, O God, for the goodness and love which you have made known to us in creation; in the calling of Israel to be your people; in your Word spoken through the prophets; and above all in the Word made flesh, Jesus, your Son. For in these last days you sent him to be incarnate from the Virgin Mary, to be the Savior and Redeemer of the world. In him, you have delivered us from evil, and made us worthy to stand before you. In him, you have brought us out of error into truth, out of sin into righteousness, out of death into life.

On the night before he died for us, our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to you, he broke it, and gave it to his disciples, and said, "Take, eat: This is my Body, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me."

After supper he took the cup of wine; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you: This is my Blood of the new Covenant, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink it, do this for the remembrance of me."

The Celebrant continues

And we offer our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving to you, O Lord of all; presenting to you, from your creation, this bread and this wine.

We pray you, gracious God, to send your Holy Spirit upon these gifts that they may be the Sacrament of the Body of Christ and his Blood of the new Covenant. Unite us to your Son in his sacrifice, that we may be acceptable through him, being ✠ sanctified by the Holy Spirit. In the fullness of time, put all things in subjection under your Christ, and bring us to that heavenly country where, with Mary, the Virgin Mother of God, and all your saints, we may enter the everlasting heritage of your sons and daughters; through Jesus Christ our Lord, the firstborn of all creation, the head of the Church, and the author of our salvation.

Ex qua mundo lux est orta:
Gaude, Virgo gloriosa,
Super omnes speciosa,
Vale, o valde decora,
Et pro nobis Christum exora.

*Hail, O Queen of Heaven enthroned.
Hail, by angels' mistress owned.
Root of Jesse, Gate of Morn
Whence the world's true light was born:
Glorious Virgin, Joy to thee,
Loveliest whom in heaven they see;
Fairest thou, where all are fair,
Plead with Christ our souls to spare.*

Text: Latin hymn, appointed for Compline between the Feast of Presentation and Wednesday in Holy Week. Free translation by Edward Caswall (1814–1878).
